13:14:56 From Andrew Kiefer To Everyone:

Does the state have a sense on how much the 1900+ entities represent of the total universe of required signatories?

13:16:21 From DeeAnne McCallin To Everyone:

About 30%

13:16:36 From Andrew Kiefer To Everyone:

thank you DeeAnne

13:16:42 From DeeAnne McCallin To Everyone:

to Andrew, it varies across entity type

13:21:01 From Cameron Kaiser To Everyone:

Absolutely

13:32:38 From Felix Su To Everyone:

Want to point out that all of the final QHIO application criteria are fundamental and--for some that CDII decided--will be set to future deadlines. Orgs were expected to review each question and consider carefully to meet these obligations before attesting. It is reasonable to expect them to lose qualified status if they fail to do so.

13:41:05 From Andrew Kiefer To Everyone:

The question poised in the Q&A re: the timeline conflict for sending ADT's is a good one.

14:09:07 From Felix Su To Everyone:

Re: Data Elements to be Exchanged, these are all appropriate decisions coming out of the P&P Subcommittee.

14:26:43 From DeeAnne McCallin To Everyone:

we are tracking that we might be about 5 mins on opening Public Comment time.

14:34:51 From Aaron Goodale To Everyone:

We support making it public. Limiting barriers to enabling exchange should be prioritized.

14:37:13 From Felix Su To Everyone:

Thanks @Rim. All the existing technical structures and trust frameworks you mentioned (eHX/CQ, HIOs, etc.) are primarily geared toward their participants, not necessarily outside requestors.

14:44:48 From Andrew Kiefer To Everyone:

Agree completely with David Ford's comments re: governance. I would add that we should add enforcement to the list as well.

14:49:57 From Felix Su To Everyone:

Agree with @David and @Andrew
