3	Jonathan Krause Synclarity Consulting (San Francisco)	That already disparities already exist. This will help identify the gaps and how they can be filled.	Thanks for your comment.
4	Lucy Johns	Thanks. Will need to refresh, while since read that.
5	Jonathan Krause Synclarity Consulting (San Francisco)	That’s right. Pick a place to start, create a foundation, and scale it based on the organization’s capacity, infrastructure, and needs.	Thanks for your comment.
6	Jonathan Krause Synclarity Consulting (San Francisco)	Organic alignment will occur. The reality is there may be new networks of service providers. All are still trying to leverage the same pool of funds.	Thanks for your comment.
7	Jonathan Krause Synclarity	If you could build whatever you wanted, what would it look like? Start there and work backward.	Thanks for your comment.

<sup>1</sup> Responses may have been provided by various Data Exchange Framework Technical Advisory Subcommittee Members or Center for Data Insights and Innovation staff.

Count	Name	Comment	Response(s) <sup>1</sup>
	Consulting (San Francisco)
8	Lucy Johns	'@Hans: Who the parties are that I should notify...  As consumer/pt, have to add: And has the patient given consent for notifying all those endpoints?	Thanks for adding your thoughts to Hans'.
9	Susan Clark	My only comment is to not rely on geography as people are transient and addresses are not always kept current.	Thanks for your comment.
10	BeckyShoemaker	In addition, addresses might not represent the geographic area where a person seeks medical care..i.e. college, etc. and completely agree with the transient/homeless persons	Thanks.
